

Higher Education Bursary

Bursaries under this scheme are funded by the Ministry of Education (MOE) and administered by Yale-NUS College; the bursary was previously known as the MOE Bursary. It is offered to Singapore Citizen students with Gross Monthly Household Per Capita Income (PCI*) or Gross Monthly Household Income (GHI) that fall between the range values in the table below.

Students whose PCI or GHI are below this range will be offered the Higher Education Community Bursary instead.

Value and Eligibility	Full-time Singapore Citizen undergraduates pursuing a bachelor's degree. PCI or GHI must fall within the range listed in the table below.
	Gross Monthly Household Per Capita Income (PCI)	Gross Monthly Household Income (GHI)	Annual Quantum
	$1,001 ≤ PCI ≤ $1,725	$4,001 ≤ GHI ≤ $6,900	$3,200 per annum
	$1,726 ≤ PCI ≤ $2,250	$6,901 ≤ GHI ≤ $9,000	$1,350 per annum
Tenure	Annual. Re-application is necessary every year.
Repayment	No repayment is required. If a student withdraws from or is asked to leave their course of study, then the bursary must be refunded in part or in full.
Conditions	Students may not concurrently hold other scholarships, study awards/grants or bursaries (including the Higher Education Community Bursary) in the same year as the Higher Education Bursary, except for the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Mendaki's Tertiary Tuition Fee Subsidy (TTFS) or scholarships/bursaries/study awards which are specifically meant to cover tuition fees only; 2. Scholarships/bursaries/study awards which are specifically meant to cover residential college fees only; 3. Awards or bursaries related to overseas exchange programs; 4. Yale-NUS Study Award.

* Monthly per capita household income (PCI) refers to the total income of all those living in the household divided by the number of people in the household.

 Gross monthly household income (GHI) refers to the total income of all those living in the household.